This world is not my home; I'm passing through
If heaven's not my home, what will I do?
I hear the voice of angels singing praise
As I journey on to heaven's gate

They're all expecting me, and this I know
My Savior pardoned me; now on I go
I know He'll take me through though I am weak
And soon I will be kneeling at His feet

I CAN'T
I CAN'T FEEL AT HOME
MY SOUL
FINDS NO REST HERE BELOW
THIS WORLD
ISN'T WHERE I BELONG
I CAN'T
I CAN'T FEEL AT HOME
ANYMORE
ANYMORE
ANYMORE
ANYMORE

In glory I will live eternally
Where saints on every hand shout victory
Their sweetest praise drifts back from heaven's shore
My Savior waits for me at heaven's door

(CHORUS)
