All that shredded paper on the floor
Pieces of a story it's impossible to read
You can't flip the pages anymore
Sorta hard to do when there're no pages to be seen

Looking at the fragments
Wondering what happened
Suddenly you see two words

TRUST THE STORYWRITER
YOU KNOW YOU CAN'T READ THESE SHREDS
BUT THE ONE WHO CAN HAS SAID
"MY PEACE I LEAVE WITH YOU"
TRUST HIM NOW
WHEN YOUR STORY MAKES NO SENSE
YOU CAN KNOW THE AUTHOR WENT
AND TOLD YOU THE END

Phrases you once treasured torn in two
But some kind of joy inside is indestructible
When you found a whisper of the truth
God showed you He has your heart forever in His hold

(Pre-chorus)
